

MEDIATION CENTRE OF SOUTHEASTERN ONTARIO

ADVANCED CERTIFICATE

From time to time, the Mediation Centre has offered a three-day “Advanced Certificate Mediation Training Course”. The limited enrolment course, for those who have already completed Mediation Training, has been designed to the specifications for the 5 day, 40 hours of “Specialized Mediation and Related Training” outlined as a requirement for the Qualified Mediator (Q. Med.) designation adopted by the ADR Institute of Canada.

The “Advanced Certificate Mediation Training Course” will not be offered in 2016-2017.

However, one can qualify for the issuance of the “Advanced Certificate” by putting together a three-day Program comprising a mix of the following components:

“Mediation Skills Builder One-Day Intensive Program” (Sept. 17/16); the one-day Program on “Dealing with Conflict in the Public Sector” (Nov. 13/16); the one-day Workshop on “Conflict Resolution in the Workplace” (Spring/17); and an approved combination of one or more sessions of the MCSO “Community of Practice” Program.

MCSO Certificates:

MCSO is in its 16th year of offering its established 40-hour Certificate Program on Alternative Dispute and Conflict Resolution, the standard entry-level qualification for the field of Mediation and Conflict Resolution. The MCSO Certificate comprises principally two intensive and interactive 20-hour component Courses in Workshop format, now styled:- “Essential Conflict Resolution and Negotiation Skills”; and “Skills Development for the Mediator and Conflict Resolution Practitioner”.

Participation qualifies for Continuing Professional Development credits pursuant to the CPD Requirement of the Law Society of Upper Canada. Course offerings scheduled for 2016 - 2017 include others listed on the MCSO web site, as well as our Course in the Queen’s University Graduate Program, Negotiation, Mediation and Facilitation in Public Disputes. Our Team of Instructors is drawn from MCSO’s 16 Roster Members.
